1. “Bhasha Bharati” – Multilingual Mega Quiz

This activity was designed to promote the spirit of multilingualism, appreciation of India’s linguistic diversity, and interactive learning—key principles emphasized under NEP-2020.

The quiz witnessed enthusiastic participation from students across various colleges and departments, making it a vibrant inter-disciplinary event. The competition included engaging rounds such as identifying languages through audio clips, recognizing regional scripts, and answering questions related to Indian languages, literature, and culture.

The event effectively highlighted:

- The richness and diversity of Indian languages
- The importance of multilingual communication in academic and professional spaces
- Enhancing listening, comprehension, and analytical skills
- Promoting cultural awareness and national integration
- Encouraging experiential and activity-based learning

Through an interactive and competitive format, the quiz created an exciting learning environment where students explored linguistic diversity in a fun and engaging manner. The event not only tested knowledge but also fostered curiosity and respect for different languages and cultures.

The “Bhasha Bharati” quiz received an overwhelming response from students and faculty, contributing to a dynamic academic atmosphere and reinforcing the importance of language as a tool for unity and knowledge sharing.

This initiative reflects MRV’s commitment to implementing NEP-2020 by nurturing culturally aware, linguistically competent, and globally responsible learners.

2. Literary Treasure Hunt

This activity was designed to promote awareness of India’s rich literary heritage and to encourage experiential, activity-based learning—key principles emphasized under NEP-2020.

The event engaged students in an exciting and interactive format where participants matched renowned Indian authors with their famous literary works and poetic lines. The activity featured eminent literary figures from different regions, enabling students to explore diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

The event effectively highlighted:

- The richness of Indian literature across regions and languages
- Familiarity with renowned poets and authors
- Enhancing memory, critical thinking, and analytical skills
- Promoting curiosity towards reading and literary exploration
- Encouraging interdisciplinary and experiential learning

Through this engaging treasure hunt format, students actively participated in discovering literary connections, making learning both enjoyable and meaningful. The activity fostered a deeper appreciation for India’s literary traditions while strengthening cognitive and interpretative skills.

The “Literary Treasure Hunt” received enthusiastic participation from students and faculty, creating a vibrant academic environment and encouraging literary appreciation across disciplines.

This initiative reflects MRV’s commitment to implementing NEP-2020 by nurturing intellectually curious, culturally aware, and knowledge-driven learners.

3. “Know Your Script”

This activity was designed to promote awareness and appreciation of India’s diverse writing systems and linguistic heritage—key aspects emphasized under NEP-2020.

The exhibition featured informative and visually engaging display boards representing various Indian scripts such as Devanagari, Telugu, Tamil, Malayalam, Gurmukhi, and Bengali. Students actively explored the origins, structure, and unique characteristics of each script, gaining insights into the evolution of languages across regions.

The event effectively highlighted:

- The diversity and uniqueness of Indian scripts
- The importance of preserving regional languages and writing systems
- Enhancing visual learning and cultural understanding
- Promoting respect for linguistic diversity and heritage
- Encouraging experiential and self-directed learning

Through interactive displays and peer engagement, the exhibition created an enriching platform for students to connect with India’s linguistic roots. The activity fostered curiosity and appreciation for scripts that form the foundation of communication and cultural identity.

The “Know Your Script” Exhibition received active participation and appreciation from students and faculty, contributing to a culturally vibrant academic atmosphere.

This initiative reflects MRV’s commitment to implementing NEP-2020 by nurturing culturally aware, linguistically sensitive, and knowledge-enriched learners.

5. Language & Medicine – Street Play

This activity was designed to highlight the critical role of language in healthcare delivery and patient care—an important aspect emphasized under NEP-2020, focusing on inclusivity and effective communication.

The students delivered a powerful and engaging performance that showcased real-life scenarios where language barriers impact diagnosis, treatment, and patient outcomes. Through impactful storytelling and relatable characters, the street play emphasized the importance of clear, compassionate, and multilingual communication in medical settings.

The event effectively highlighted:

- The importance of effective doctor–patient communication
- Overcoming language barriers in healthcare delivery
- Promoting empathy and patient-centered care
- The need for multilingual competence among healthcare professionals
- Enhancing awareness on inclusive and accessible healthcare practices

Through expressive dialogue, visual enactment, and emotional connect, the street play created a strong impact on the audience, reinforcing the significance of communication in saving lives and improving healthcare quality.

The event witnessed active participation from students and was well appreciated by faculty and attendees, creating awareness about the intersection of language and medicine.

This initiative reflects MRV's commitment to implementing NEP-2020 by nurturing socially responsible, empathetic, and communication-skilled healthcare professionals.
